

Open Source Implementation

For our open source implementation we chose the GNU GPLv3 license. It gives developers the option to contribute and our solution is protected against developers who want to make a closed source version.

Also we made a Gitter for communication.

